

Community Organization Map

This is a tool to assist communities in identifying organizations serving a particular group/audience. Then it can define current relationships and potential future partners. Write the name of a specific community or group of interest at the top and then record the names of all organizations in your community collaborating with your interest group in the following categories.

Community Organization Map

The diagram consists of 20 rectangular boxes arranged in four rows: the top row has 4 boxes, the second row has 6 boxes, the third row has 4 boxes, and the bottom row has 2 boxes. In the center of the bottom row is a large oval containing the text "Community Served" in a bold, italicized font. Below this text is a horizontal line.

Identify a special community/resident group or target with whom to collaborate and place organizations who serve this target group on the map with the most directed collaborators with this audience closest to the audience. Add all those interacting with this clientele somewhere on the map. Then draw a line in one color between those who are currently working together. Then draw a line between groups that represent potential partners in your community.
